The Twilight Brigade

The Twilight Brigade, which Dannion co-founded in 1997, is one of the largest end-of-life care organizations, operating as an independent agency within VA hospitals and hospice care facilities across America. Its approximately 5,000 volunteers are dedicated to being at the bedside of our nation's dying, especially Veterans.

The Twilight Brigade is a California-based 501(c)3 nonprofit organization for the primary purpose of raising society's consciousness about the needs of the dying, especially Veterans — through community and professional education, advocacy, and direct service to the terminally ill and their loved ones, ensuring that no one need die alone.

Officially dead for over 28 minutes when struck by lightning the first time in 1975 and having survived three near-death experiences (NDE), Dannion Brinkley is truly a living medical miracle. His life has been shoved under the scientific microscope, catapulted into the spiritual spotlight and evolved into a life of service to meet the needs of the dying.

In 1994, author Paul Perry joined Dannion to put that first NDE experience into words. Saved by the Light became a New York Times best seller, propelling Dannion into the media spotlight. A year later he and Paul wrote the follow up book, At Peace in the Light, and subsequently, The Secrets of the Light with Kathryn Brinkley.

NYT bestselling author Paul Perry started his own film production company in 2005 with the goal of making innovative films that matter. Among his ground-breaking films, "Afterlife" explores near-death experiences and their impact on those who have literally returned from death. Glimpses of Eternity: Sharing a Loved One's Passage from this Life to the Next, which he co-wrote with Dr. Raymond Moody, was published in 2010.
